Peer Justice Program Strengthening Teens & QC Community

YSB's Peer Justice Program works with teens ages 13 – 17 who have had police contact for a status offense, misdemeanor offense, ordinance violation or a non-violent felony. One of the unique things about Peer Justice is that respondents have a sentencing hearing before a jury of teen peers. The jury determines a sentence that can include community service, an apology letter, a verbal apology to parents in front of the jury, restitution, counseling services or educational services.

Last year, officers from the area referred 107 cases to Peer Justice. Fifty-two of those referrals were for Retail Theft.

As part of her sentence, a Peer Justice Respondent wrote the following apology to Sears at South Park Mall.

To the Workers and Managers of Sears

On February 13th, 2011, I came into Sears and shoplifted. When I came into the store, please know that was not my intention. I came into the store heading for appliances to see if the store carried laptops. After I found out you didn't, I went to leave and I stopped at the jewelry counter and saw the necklaces hanging there. My mind went blank, I fingered the necklaces and without thought, I took one, ripped the tag off and shoved it in my pocket. Once it was there my mind flooded... "What are you doing?" "You're going to ruin everything!" That's what was in my head. I panicked. . . Leave, get out! I thought! I left the necklaces in my pocket thinking "get out, then trash it". So, that was my plan. Why didn't I just put it back? I was so panicked that I didn't weigh my options. . .I just wanted to remove myself, but I got caught.

Right now I'm in a program called Peer Justice and getting consequences for what I did. I accept my punishments because I made a bad decision. Please understand I'm not a bad kid, I just made a bad decision. If I could take it back, I'd do so in a heartbeat.

I want to apologize to everyone working that day, and the people who had to take time out of their day to deal with me, and doing paperwork. I feel awfully sorry and ashamed. I never meant to hurt anyone or myself, but that's what I did. My family is very disappointed in me; I can't blame them. I'm disappointed in myself. I'm better than this and I know it. Everything was going great and I messed it up in less than 30 minutes.

My punishments include: grounding (no television, phone, friends, and music) until further notice. Twenty hours of community service; jury duty and other things.

I mean it when I say I learned my lesson. I never want to feel as low as I did that day and every day since then. When my family looks at me, it burns because I know they will never forget.

It is my fault I know, but I'll fix it. It's going to take some time but I'll prove I'm sorry, and I'll do anything.

Again, I'm apologizing for everything. I'm done with disappointment. I want to make people proud and I can't do that while messing up.

*Thank you for your time.
